JURORS STOPPED FROM REPORTING IN BRIBERY CASE

Franklin Ordered to Call Off Jury Summoning in Robertson Case.

100 NAMES ON LIST

New Jury Panel to be Taken When Case is Reset for Trial.

The entire jury panel of 100 names selected for jury service in the trial of Governor Robertson, scheduled for hearing here December 12, are being notified not to report here on that date, owing to the decision awarded by the supreme court Friday, it became known here Saturday, when L. E. Franklin, court clerk, received instructions from Judge Thomas A. Edwards to stay the jury summoning.

Franklin early Saturday morning was attempting to reach parties selected for jury service in the Robertson case by telephone, but owing to the fact that a greater part of the panel is listed from out-of-town residents it is believed that many will report Tuesday morning for jury service without having received due notice from court officials.

Franklin mailed letters to the entire list of names on the jury panel Saturday afternoon in an effort to notify summoned jurors in the case not to report Tuesday morning.

The present jury in the Robertson case will not serve when the case is reset after January 2, when Judge J. W. Bolen will call a special term of district court here. A new jury panel will be selected by the commission on January 1.

WELCOMED RAIN SMOTHERS FLAMES IN ASTORIA'S CHARRED BUSINESS BLOCKS WHILE LEADERS PLANS REHABILITATION

Plans for "City Beautiful" to Replace Remnants Now Under Consideration.

(By the Associated Press)

ASTORIA, Ore., Dec. 9. —Rain fell from the leaden skies today on the ruins of Astoria's business district helping the firemen to quench the smoldering remants of the blaze, which yesterday wiped the heart of this century old city. But neither the rain nor the gloomy aspect quenched the spirit of Astoria leading citizens, who vigorously attacked the job of rehabilitation.

The vision of a "city beautiful" to replace the one gone up in smoke was before the men who gathered to plan the reconstruction. To avoid the springing up of a "shacktown" on the ashes, they made provision for the erection of temporary structures outside the burned area under permits issued by authority of a committee, which took charge of the entire local situation. The relief work was well in hand today and there was no prospect of physical suffering.

Astoria today surveyed its losses from the $12,000,000 fire which yesterday demolished twenty-four blocks of buildings in the city's business section. Measures have been taken by the city to relieve the 2500 persons made homeless by the conflagration and a citizen's committee, hastily organized, has undertaken the task of providing clothing and shelter for the homeless.

The five banking institutions of the city were completely destroyed leaving thousands without funds.

An order committing all of the city's food supply for centralized distribution has been issued, while stores in the outlying section of town doing unprecedented business have been ordered by the police department to refrain from profiteering.

Word was received from Portland yesterday that a special train commission has requisitioned large amounts of staple food and sufficient clothing to relieve further suffering. Long lines of hungry persons were fed in front of the Y. M. C. A. building last night while others were fed and housed in several railroad stations.

Hundreds of private homes have been thrown open to the destitute and men and women worked tirelessly to provide living quarters for others in all public buildings available including places nearer the scene of the catastrophe.

As soon as a systemized operation can be started by relief parties it will be possible to receive aid through the Red Cross.

Frantic efforts of telephone and electric light workmen had partially restored the lighting facilities for the city here last night and throughout the burned district a heavy guard of soldiers and special police has been established to prevent looting of the destroyed area.

Fire fighting apparatus was at work in full tilt at a late hour and will constantly be on the job until all the flames have been extinguished.

For Jack's Party

Farmers of Pontotoc county are intent on showing Oklahoma that Jack Walton's inaugeral party is considerably their own.

Farmers of the county will send a car load of sweet potatoes to fill in the menu with 8 'possums, according to the announcement of Fred Brydia, in charge of the preparations in the county.

This decision was prompted at a meeting of the Farmer-Labor union Friday at Parish Chapel, 14 miles north of Ada.

Brydia announced that he had received information to the effect that the president of the Producers Growers association, at Union Valley where much of the sweet potato crop of the county is grown, had agreed to furnish a good share of the car load shipment.

The car will be assembled and ready for transportation to Oklahoma City Saturday, December 30, Brydia announced.

Approximately 800 bushels of potatoes will be stored in the car.

THREE SLAIN IN PITCHED BATTLE

Reports Varied on Cause of Gun Fight Between River Crews.

(By the Associated Press)

VICKSBURG, Miss., Dec. 9. — Three men were killed and three wounded in a gun and pistol battle between labor agents and planters at Duckport, La., on the Mississippi river, near here, early today.

Reports of the circumstances leading to the trouble were conflicting, Mrs. Wm. Wooten, wife of a man who was wounded, told authorities that Jake Stevens, negro, and he were engaged by R. L. Kirtley, representing the Black River Land company near Vicksburg, to go to Duckport to get four or five negro families, who were to work on the land company's plantation.

Accompanied by Stevens and several others he ran his barge to a point near Duckport where 15 or 20 white men and negroes were on the river bank. They hailed the boat and he made for a landing when the men on shore opened fire with automatic guns and pistols.

Stevens had a revolver and returned the fire, according to the story. A second fusilade of shots from men on shore brought Stevens and two others on the barge down.

The district attorney said the men went to the negro quarters of the plantation and attempted to persuade the negroes to leave and raised a disturbance. The home negroes sent word to the planters and asked what the men wanted. Then answered by firing at planters and according to the district attorney, the planters returned the fire.

SEARCH FOR U.S. ARMY OFFICER TO SWEEP ALL WEST

Airplanes Canvass Entire West in Search of Missing Crew.

LOST SINCE THURSDAY

Planes Start from Texas Field to Assist in All-Western Search.

(By the Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 9. — The most comprehensive aeronautical search instituted by the government since the air forces of the army and navy combined in efforts to find Lieutenants Cecil H. Connelly and Frank Watterhouse several years ago in Lower California, was put into effect today in an effort to clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Colonel Francis H. Marshal and Lieut. Charles L. Webber.

As dusk approached, however, no definite word regarding the fate of the two officers, who left Rockwell Field Thursday for Ft. Hauchuca, Ariz., in an airplane with Webber as the pilot had been received and another day's search was planned.

At noon today five airplanes from the Twelfth Observation Squadron stationed at Ft. Bliss under command of Major Leo F. Haffernon, joined the Rockwell Field aircraft forces at Tucson under Captain Lowell H. Smith. Before 1 p. m. nine military airplanes extending in a line estimated to be nearly ten miles wide swept southeact from Estrella, Ariz., where the missing plane last was reported seen searching territory that had not yet been covered.

Captain Smith reported by telegraph that Lieutenant Webber's plane had circled Estrella at a low altitude at about noon Thursday evidently to check his bearings and then had swerved off to the southeast in the mountains of that section but military aviators said today it would be hard to find a place to land in any of them without seriously damaging the plane.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 9. —Five airplanes in charge of Major Leo J. Ferrernan, commandant of the Twelfth Observation squadron, left Ft. Bliss at 6:30 this morning for Tucson to join in the search for Lieut. Charles L. Webber and Col Marshal.

The airplanes were piloted by Lieutenants C. L. Chenault, Robert D. Knapp, C. D. Pierce and W. A. Wilson.

The base for the El Paso planes will be at Tucson from where they will search the territory east and south.

Five school districts in the county will be affected, it was made known in the report o fthe excise board. These districts, however, will not receive drastic cuts to the extent that school terms will be hampered to any great set-back. School terms may be cut as much one month in some districts, it was stated.

CASE AGAINST WHITE DISMISSED BY COURT

(By the Associated Press)

EMPORIA, Kan., Dec. 8. —The state case against William Allen White, Emporia editor, charged with violating the industrial court law by placing a placard in the window of his newspaper office was dismissed late today in district court, Judge W. C. Harris presiding. Mr. White appeared at the court with his attorney.

In dismissing the case, Judge Harris declared the rumors arising from the state's refusal to bring the case to trial has done White an injustice and the judge flayed the administration of Governor Henry J. Allen for the way in which the case has been handled.

"This case was commenced maliciously or recklessly without investigation of the facts to ascertain whether the prosecution was justified," the judge said.

White in a statement after the hearing declared he had been "Ku Kluxed" and "by a court that did not have the guts to pull out their shirt tails and give the Ku Klux parade."

Alleged Woman Would Have Husband Killed Who Boasted of Wealth.

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 9. — Charges that she had been tricked into marriage by offers of great wealth and generosity and that she had been "driven so nearly frantic by the actions of her husband that at times she suffered a loss of memory and responsibility," will be the defense of Mrs. May Blenn Ford, when she goes on trial here charged with plotting the death of her husband, Vinia J. Ford, of Dearborn.

Mrs. Ford held in the jail here because she cannot procure $15,000 bail, is cnarged with offering to hire a local detective, who posed as a gunman for $20,000 to kill her husband and burn the body.

Mrs. Ford declares she first met Ford when she was employed in a Toledo beauty parlor. Mr. Ford first wrote to the manager of the place and said he was a near relative to Henry Ford, that he had great wealth and was generous and desired a wife, the woman said.

"The letter was turned over to me and I answered it. Immediately I received a reply in which the matter of riches and relationship with Henry Ford was enlarged upon. He came to see me and we were married."

"Ford took me to his farm at Dearborn to live. I found a home that had been a bachelor's apartment for nearly seven years. I asked for money to buy dishes and was given $5. I papered the house, varnished the floor and cooked for from 10 to 15 men during the harvest season.

"And then I learned that my husband did not even know Henry Ford to speak to him. The latter passed our place, looked curiously at the name on the mail box and then drove on."

The authorities are still holding in custody, Alvery Young, negro, who was captured in Georgia yesterday after a six day search.

Wright, in his confession, is said to have exonerated Young. Wright implicated another negro, whose name he did not give, as having robbed Miss Hendry after Wright had cut her throat.

ALLIED PREMIERS PASS FIRST TILT IN PEACE PARLEY

Conference Reaches Definite Understanding before First Day's End.

GERMAN AT MEET

Poincare Says France Will Accept Two-Year Period Moratorium.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The clouds that overhung the reparations conference last night have been dispelled by todays' proceedings. The four premiers, Bonar Law, Poincare, Theunyns held two meetings lasting five hours. There was nothing approaching an agreement nor had any agreement been expected from one day's deliberations. The chief result was something more nearly approaching an understanding of the position of the two principal nations, Great Britain and France than had existed at any time during the past few weeks.

Premier Poincare offered in behalf of France acceptance of a two-year's moratorium for Germany provided satisfactory guarantees were forthcoming.

Premier Poincare, towards the close of the first session of the conference of allied premiers here today is understood to have said that France would consider a moratorium of two years for Germany if certain guarantees accompanied it.

While Premier Poincare was reported not to have reached the point of definite proposals he declared the reparations question had arrived at a stage where something radical must be done. He came prepared, he said, to discuss with the others what action should be taken. Fance's great interest, must be recognized.

German Expert Present.

M. Poincare appeared perturbed when he left his hotel for the conference, having just made a denial of the charge that France intended to annex the Rhine region. He was in good spirits however, when he returned from the conference, French attaches drawing the inference that the conference was going well.

In connection with the conference, it was noted this morning that Carl Bergman, the German financial expert, had arrived in London.

The conference of the allied premiers held a two-hour session this morning turning to luncheon shortly before 2 p. m. The heads of the four delegations—British, French, Italian and Belgium—addressed the gathering, Premier Poincare of France holding the floor the longest.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—It can be stated on highest authority that the Washington government has no suggestion to make to the allied premiers in connection with their meeting in London.

Unwilling Vet to Suffer Ride in Old Hoodlum Bus

Retreat will not be sounded in the camp of Norman Howard Post, American Legion until every Legionnaire and ex-vet has fallen victim to the barrage for 100 percent membership, according to last word information of Post officers.

Not since the historic battles of Verdun, Cantigne, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Saint Mehiel and the Argonne has such a memorable encounter been schemed as has been by the local Legion officials.

In the sweeping barrage for memberships, no shell-holes will be left undisturbed by the strong-arm committees. Vets, who have in days of the "guerre" been able to pull the wool over the colonel's eyes and remain A. W. O. L. without court martial, will find the last battle for memberships a different proposition, local officers maintain.

Local officers believe that forced membership is not such a bad proposition after Uncle Sam's gentle entreaties to enter his army back in 1916. They maintain that they would rather have volunteers to carry on the fight of the after-war soldier but if some are hesitant, draft measures can again be instituted with a greater degree of discipline.

Early Wednesday morning, officers in charge will get the old hoodlum-wagon, in discard since its debut last year, and patrol the horizon for Legionnaire possibles, aided with a true and correct list of all, who served in Uncle Sam's mighty army and then make personal calls on the individual, who bears then qualifications of a former soldier.

The drive will continue Thursday, if the object is not reached. The old war-time slogan of "Heaven, Hell or Hoboken by Christmas" will be appropriately supplemented with the later decrees, "One hundred per cent membership by Christmas."

Those in charge of the last battle are: Judges, Bill Emanual and Clint Miers; chief clerk Charley Johnson; policemen, Emmett Roach, A. Thompson, Tom Fullerton, Joe Cole, Sam Huser, Joe Nead, Buck Senell, Slade Norman, Joe Hardin, L. West, Jerry Craigin, Charley Enloe.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE KNOCKER.

Just as one small pebble in a shoe can cause much discomfort to the wearer, so one mossback or knocker can do considerable damage to a community. Neither the pebble nor the knocker is fatal but both are extremely unpleasant companions.—Ada News.

The older we get (and we've been getting older for several years) the more we are convinced that knocking is quite essential as certain forms of assinine agreement. In fact, it often indicates a lot more of what the average community needs. Chronic grouches ought to be put away in moth-balls, its' true; but people who refuse to agree to just any old thing when agreement might be temporarily the popular thing—such people are the salt of the earth. Advertise for more of them.—Pittsburgh County Guardian.

President Harding has again sent the name of Walter L. Cohn, a negro, to the senate for confirmation as controller of customs at the New Orleans custom house. This nomination failed of confirmation during the regular session but Harding is standing by his appointee and will endeavor to force him on the people of Louisana if possible. Naturally the senators from Louisana and neighboring states are indignant and will offer vigorous opposition. Just why any president should insist on appointing negroes in Southern states is hard to understand. Such appointments always stir up trouble and there is certainly no political advantage to be gained by it. However, it is not altogether a sectional matter. Some years ago a president had decided to appoint a negro as assistant district attorney in a federal court at Boston. The Bostonians have often expressed a great deal of sympathy for the sufferings of the negroes at the hands of the Southerners and have wasted many tears over their woes, but when it came to appointing one among themselves to a federal office they stood on their hind legs and howled until the appointment was not made.

The convention of the Farm-Labor Union at Fort Worth adopted a resolution a few days ago favoring holding next year's cotton crop until a price to be named later has been reached. Very good idea, perhaps, but it has been tried many times before and always failed because many who signed the agreement failed to stand hitched. To date no co-operative plan has worked as well as the one upon which the Oklahoma Cotton Growers association is founded, which is to collect and classify the cotton and sell it gradually as the market appears to justify. The only successful way to handle any commodity, whether produced on the farm or elsewhere, is to provide a 12-months-in-the-year market .When it is dumped in the period of a few weeks the market must of necessity be forced down.

A little learning may be a dangerous thing, as the poet Pope declared, for it may give a man an exaggerated idea of himself and his store of knowledge, but this is not as bad as no learning. It is said that there are 5,000,000 persons in the United States past 10 years of age who cannot read or write. While many of these were denied an opportunity to get even the rudiments of an education in their youth and are as good citizens as any we have, in congested centers one finds thousands who are an easy prey to agitators who seek to inflame them against American institutions. It is in such places that a determined effort must be made to wipe out illiteracy as the best guarantee that American ideals shall be preserved.

The last issue of the Pauls Valley Enterprise was a hummer. It was the annual industrial edition of that paper and contained 28 pages of highly interesting reading and many cuts describing Pauls Valley and Garvin county. The resources of the county are set forth in a manner that could not possibly be improved on. We extend our congratulations to the Enterprise on this highly creditable edition.

As Otis Lorton of the Tulsa World sees it Rube Geers of Tishomingo made a bid for a farewell party from his neighbors when he kept announcing through his paper for three months that he was preparing to move to Oklahoma City the first of the year. Lorton is of the opinion that a man contemplating a step like that needs a send-off of some kind.

The public is considerably interested in the large crop of lame ducks who became members of the flock as a result of the last election. President Harding has such a large flock on his hands that it will tax his ability to find nice fat appointive jobs for them after March 4.

Let a NEWS WANT AD get it for you.

AMERICAN LOOMS REPLACE IMPORTS REDUCED BY CRISIS IN NEAR EAST

In The Bazaar

Designing

CHICAGO.—Chaos in Constantinople and the long-continued fighting in the Near East have seriously curtailed the importation of Oriental rugs into the United States, according to merchants.

Rug making, it is pointed out, is essentially a peace-time pursuit. The towns of Ghiordes, Kulah and Bergamos, famed for the rich beauty and distinctive designs of their rugs, all lie near martyred Smyrna and the tragedy of war has taken their craftsmen while the looms of Armenia have long been idle.

"With the wonderful rug makers of the Orient engaged in killing instead of weaving, it is a matter of congratulation that American rug manufacturers have sat at their feet in happier years and learned the intricate details of their art," said an official of Marshall Field & Company, whose Home-Crest carpet mills in Pennsylvania are among the most modern rug manufacturing plants in this country.

"The art-in-industry movement, just now a dominant note in American merchandise, has brought about no more beautiful results than in these domestic floor coverings. These results have been made possible by a world-wide study of the designs, colors and symbolism in the centuries-old art of making rugs.

"The company's buyers in Asiatic countries have shopped in the bazaars of Persia and Afghanistan, fared by caravan across the deserts of Arabia, journeyed over Himalayan passes into Thibet, ransacked the marts of China and Japan, trafficked with Turkish and Egyptian merchants in Stamboul and Cairo, and braved the perils of Indian jungles to bring the old art to the new industry.

"The wares these paladins of commerce have brought back from far countries have been the inspiration of a corps of trained artists in the employ of the company and these craftsmen have made Home-Crest rugs, turned out by American machinery, the equal in color and picturesque designs to the best products of Oriental looms. Of an artistry no less alluring than that of eastern lands, these domestic rugs are at the same time brought by their lower prices within the reach of the most modern American homes."

The Jerry McAuley Mission.

(Brooklyn Eagle)

No religious institution in New York commands greater respect from all sorts and conditions of men than does the Jerry McAuley mission in Water street, whose golden jubilee celebration at Carnegie hall was turned by Dr. Stires, of St. Thomas' church, into a revival meeting akin in spirit, although different in personnel, to those which are familiar at the mission itself.

For 50 years the mission has been a rescue station for the down and outs. The story of the wrecks it has restored to lives of usefulness and respect has been told from one end of the country to the other. The work has gone on from year to year too steadily for any doubt of its firm foundation. Dr. Stires turned the great meeting at Carnegie into a special plea for the men discharged from prison and needing hedp if any men on earth need it. He began with the statement that he had just found a job for the hundredth man discharged from Sing Sing during his 20 years as rector of St. Thomas and that of the one hundred only four had failed to make good. Thousands of people have heard of St. Thomas as the fashionable church for the weddings of the rich to one who ever thinks of it as the seat of useful Christian work of that sort.

The revivals at the McAuley mission are a familiar story. If the effects of the McAuley revival at Carnegie hall are as far-reaching and lasting as of those in Water street, its golden jubilee will not have been misnamed. The occasion was striking evidence of the quickened response to spiritual appeals which has been noted many times and in many places since the war.

Farm Bloc for Ford.

(Ladonia (Tex.) News)

While President Harding is straining every nerve to obtain a subsidy for shipping, the Farm bloc in congress has definitely decided to back the Henry Ford proposal to lease and operate the fertilizing plants at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

Those back of the Muscle Shoals movement plainly indicate their conviction that the quick and cheap manufacture of fertilizer is of more fundamental importance to the American farmer than the establishing of an American merchant marine, much as that is to be desired as a builder of trade.

The Muscle Shoals bill will be backed in connection with a bill providing for an intermediate form of credit running from six months to three years.

There is a marked opposition to the leasing of Muscle Shoals to the Michigan millionaire, the objectors contending that the government sell it all, provides certain capital for the enterprise for a long period of time and at low interest, and obtains no guarantees from the purchaser.

It is absurd to suppose that Ford proposes to invest his millions in an enterprise and then let it stagnate. The best guarantee the farmers feel they have, is the fact that Mr. Ford is nearing his sixtieth year and that his only reward now can come in honor and in service, and not in the accumulation of additional wealth.

The development of Muscle Shoals would mean the rejuvination of the entire southern territory. It would be of incalcuable benefit to all farmers. Whatever may be said against it, surely it seems wiser to get action than for congress to fritter away more years in hagging while the great enterprise with its multitudinous buildings and vast machinery rots on the ground.

Perhaps if we had a few more Henry Ford offers the disgraceful spectacle of the liquidation of our many war camps might have been spared us.

More power to the Farm bloc. There will be a new story to tell when some of these gentlemen address congress.

MURPHY SETS FOUR WORLD RECORDS IN LOS ANGELES RACE

Averages 114.6 Miles an Hour Winning Long Grind; Two Hurt in Accident.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Jimmy Murphy, is world champion race driver for 1922. He wan Sunday's 250-mile classic this afternoon, breaking the world's record for the 250 miles and averaging a speed of 114.6 miles an hour.

Murphy drove a heady race throughout, leading the field of sixteen of the world's foremost drivers for the greater part of the distance.

Murphy drove a Durant special, as did his team mate, Earl Cooper, who finished second, just nosing out Harry Hartz, in a Hartz special, who finished third.

Murphy made the 250 miles in 2 hours, 10 minutes and 53 4-100 seconds. The first five to finish made better time than the former world's record, which was 111.2 miles per hour, made by Murphy at San Francisco last December.

In Sunday's race Murphy broke all previous records for 100, 150, 200 and 250 miles.

Seventy-five thousand people witnessed the race, which had been postponed from Thanksgiving.

During practice spins on the course Herschel McKee, an American "ace" in the world war, was seriously hurt and Hugh Curley, his mechanic, probably fatally injured when McKee crashed into the fence at the east turn while trying to pass Joe Thomas at a speed of 110 miles an hour. McKee's Deusenberg car, which had the unlucky number 13, was wrecked. Thomas' racer had a rear wheel torn off but he managed to repair the car in time to start in the race.

TO INVADE NORTH IN GIANT PLANE

Model Seaplane to be Fitted with All Conveniences for Artic Trip.

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 8.—In a giant seaplane, a party of Detroit and New York sportsmen will invade the great wastes of the arctic next summer on what is regarded as a most unusual hunting trip if present plans are carried out. Members of the party intend to so completely outfit the plane that it will match the modern parlor car for convenience and comfort.

The trip will have as its objective the land which heretofore has been known only to the dog train.

Included in the party will be Inglis M. Uppercu and Charles F. Redden of New York, Howard E. Coffin, Harold H. Emmons, William E. Metzger and Dr. James W. Inches of Detroit, men prominent in the airplane and motor worlds.

The plane, which now is being especially constructed at Keyport, N. J., will take an all water route to the far northern bay. It is planned to leave New York about July 1, thence to Montreal and Moose Factory. The Hudson Bay territory will be entered from the latter station.

The equipment of the plane will include compartment sleeping quarters, with an observation room forward, an electrically equipped kitchenette, an armory, a galley and large storage rooms. It is announced that arrangements have been made with the Hudson Bay company for gasoline and other supplies.

In discussing the proposed trip, Mr. Redden said "It was after operating passenger-carrying craft for three years and having flown more than 1,000,000 passenger miles without a mishap that I concluded properly regulated flying would enable us to safely reach Hudson Bay."

Medical treatment in Germany costs twenty times as much as before the war.

Big Cast Supports Norma Talmadge.

Norma Talmadge's latest Associated First Natoinal starring vehicle "The Sign on the Door," an adaptation of Channing Pollock's successful stage play in which Marjorie Rambeau appeared on Broadway, will be the special feature at the Liberty theatre next week, opening its engagement Monday.

Charles Richman, who has appeared opposite Miss Talmadge in many of her most successful screen productions, will again be seen as her leading man in "The Sign on the Door" in the role of "Lafe" Regan. Lew Cody has the role of Frank Devereaux. Paul McAllister appears as the District Attorney.

Other important members of the cast are David Proctor, Augustus Balfour, Mack Barnes, Helen Weir, Robert Agnew, Martinie Burnley, Lew Hendricks and Walter Bussee.

"The Sign on the Door" has been produced on an elaborate scale under the direction of Herbert Brenon. The scenes were filmed at Palm Beach and New York. The story follows closely that of the stage version, and the completed production is said to be the best yet made by the Norma Talmadge company.

Mary Murillo, who recently prepared the script for "The Passion Flower," Miss Talmadge's preceding vehicle, also wrote the continuity for "The Sign on the Door."

The story is said to offer Norma abundant opportunity for the display of her extraordinary emotional and dramatic ability.

The word "sack" meaning "bag," is one of the few words that are the same in all languages; this being caused, according to tradition, by the fact that it was the last word uttered before the confusion of tongues at Babel.

For Men or Women

Christmas brings its pretty candles gayly decked out this year with sealingwax flowers, or painted and gilded. The cardboard back is cut out to form an easel support.

COLLEGE NOTES

The chief budget officer of the Oklahoma state schools called a meeting of the normal school presidents last Wednesday at which the question of the needs of the normal schools for the next two years was considered. Mr. Linscheid, who attended the meeting, stated that Ben Harrison of Calvin, who has been a member of the appropriation committee of the legislature since statehood, represented Mr. Walton in the meeting. Others present were R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of public instruction, and M. A. Nash, who has been elected to that office for the next term.

The college band gave a concert at Stratford Wednesday night. R. S. Newcomb delivered the address of the evening.

R. R. Robinson has returned from a trip to the north, where he visited the larger teachers colleges in the United States.

Professor Newcomb will speak this evening at Tishomingo to the county teachers association of Johnston county. Mr. Fentem will speak to the county teachers of Seminole county and President Linscheid will will speak at Holdenville to the Hughes county teachers.

Gilman Mackin, who has been a student at the teachers college for the past two and a half years, and who is a junior in the college department, is teaching at Tishomingo. He is instructor in manual training and is coaching basketball.

Corn Meal Recipes.

For making such dishes as griddle cakes and waffles, the peculiar granular consistency of corn meal, which is a disadvantage under some circumstances, is an advantage, for it renders them very tender. The following recipes for the use of corn meal are recommended by food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Corn Meal Puffs (Without Wheat)

1 pint milk, 1-3 cup corn meal, 4 tablespoons sugar, -2 1teaspoon salt, 4 eggs, grated nutmeg (if desired).

Cook the milk and meal together for 15 minutes with the salt and the sugar. When cool add the eggs, well beaten. Bake in cups. Serve with stewed fruit or jam. This serves six persons.

Corn Meal Fritters.

By increasing the corn meal in the above recipe to one-half cup, the batter is made stiff enough to be dropped into hot fat and friend. This serves six persons.

Corn Meal Pancakes.

2 cups wheat flour, one-half cup corn meal 1 1-2 tablespoons baking powder, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 1-2 cups boiling water, 1 1-4 cups milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Add the meal to the boiling water and boil for 5 minutes; turn into a bowl, add the milk and the remaining dry ingredients mixed and sifted, then the egg well beaten, and the butter. Cook on a greased griddle. This serves six persons.

Corn Meal and Wheat Waffles.

1 1-2 cups boiling water, 1-2 cup white corn beal, 1 1-2 cups milk, 3 cups wheat flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 1-3 tablespoons baking powder, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt, yolks 2 eggs, whites 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Cook the meal in the boiling water for 20 minutes; add the milk, the dry ingredients mixed and sifted, the yolks of eggs well beaten, the butter, and the whites of eggs beaten stiff. Cook on a greased waffle iron. These waffles are considered by most people better than those made with wheat flour only. This serves six persons.

Purebred Stock aSle.

Oklahoma City, Dec. 8.—The Animal Husbandry Department of the Oklahoma A. & M College is having an aucton sale of its pure bred livestock on December 29th at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

This sale is due to a shortage of supply of feed and the number of surplus stock on hand. It will be a combination sale which will include Shorthorn, Hereford and Angus cattle; Percheron and grade horses; Poland China and Duroc Jersey hogs.

Some of the best breeding of the country will be represented and it will be an excellent opportunity for livestock breeders to obtain some fine foundation stock for their herds.

All of the cattle are tuberculin tested and the hogs are all immune to cholera, having been doubly treated for such. Everyone interested in better livestock should attend this sale.

J. A. WHITEHURST,
President State Board of Agriculture.

The Hughes county poultry show is scheduled for the 14th, 15th and 16th of this month. Holdenville has become noted for the excellent poultry shows it pulls off and this one will probably be as good or better than any heretofore held there.

I am hearing goods reports of the prospects of a fine display at the show to be held here December 28, 29 and 30 by the Pontotoc County Poultry Association. There are plenty of birds here to give a show as good as any in the state It is just a matter of the breeders taking the time to prepare for it. Poultry raising is becoming a big business and these shows give one a chance to see just what the people of any section are doing in the way of improving their fowls. Mongrel chickens are like other mixed kinds of stock, far below what the standard should be.

Reports in various papers coming to the News office indicate that a determined effort is being made throughout the cotton belt of Oklahoma to check the next year's crop of boll weevils by cleaning up thoroughly and breaking the land as soon as possible. An ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure any old time.

The Farmers Union of Coal county a few days ago adopted a strong resolution against killing birds of any kind. They realize that the birds are good friends to the farmers in destroying insects and they expect to protect the lives of their feathered friends. The quail is one of the most important of these birds and the farmers are right in insisting that hunters spare the birds.

NOTICE JURORS.

All who were summoned for jury service in the Robertson cast Tuesday are hereby notified that there will be no court on that date, hence they shall disregard the summons.

DANGER AHEAD FOR THE LAUNCHING PARTY—IF THE GUN DOESN'T BLOW UP

Much Progress Shown in Twenty Years Work Under Federal Reclamation Act

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A twenty-year review of government reclamation work is contained in the annual report for the fiscal year ended last June of Director Arthur P. Davis, of the United States Reclamation Service, of the Department of the interior, as the 17th day of June, 1922, marked the completion of twenty years of operation of the National Reclamation Act.

The investment of the government during this period has been in round numbers $135,000,000, which has accomplished the construction of works by which about 1,675,000 acres of former arid land, in the west has been furnished with a complete water supply, and about 1,100,000 additional acres in private projects has received a supplemental supply. On government projects the area comprises 31,462 farms, at an average area per farm of about 53 acres, supplying more than 30,000 families.

With the investment mentioned the service has excavated more than 200,000,000 cubic yards of earth and rock, of which about 14,000,000 cubic yards have been placed in dams. Canals aggregating more than 13,000 miles have been built, including 27 miles of tunnels and 134 miles of flumes. Structures of all kinds and sizes, to the number of 110,000 have been erected in connection with the work.

Some of the largest projects constructed are the Roosevelt Dam, in Arizona, which is 200 feet high; the Arrowrock dam in Idaho, 349 feet high; Elephant Butte dam in New Mexico, 306 feet high; and the Pathfinder and Shoeshone dams in Wyoming, 218 and 328 feet high respectively.

Much Erection Work Done.

Reclamation work also included the erection of many other dams, canals and tunnels, flumes, drains, power plants, transmission and telephone lines, roads, railroads, pumping plants and a variety of other classes of incidental work.

From an agricultural standpoint, the report said, the Reclamation Service has added another state to the Union, equal in value to its agricultural products to that of the state of West Virginia or the combined values of the crops of Vermont and Connecticut. The value of crops raised on farms on government projects in 1921 amounted to $49,620,300, exclusive of about $45,000,000 additional raised on private projects which were furnished water from works erected by the service.

The value of crops grown on irrigated lands in the Federal projects in 1921 averaged $42.85 per acre, as compared with $14.52 the average value per acre of the ten leading crops in the country as a whole in the same year. Since the government projects began the delivery of water the crops grown on reclaimed land have exceeded $475,000,000 in value, exclusive of the crop value on private lands watered through government sources and of the increased value produced as live stock and stock products. The increased value of the lands as a result of reclamation work by the government was placed at over $500,000,000.

Director Davis pointed out that the reclamation projects have not been exempt from the vicissitudes of industrial conditions, and that although they enjoyed high prices during 1917, 1918 and 1919, they also suffered severely from the rapid decline in values and available markets in subsequent years. Although the acreage irrigated and cropped has continued to increase, the actual values realized in the past two years are less than those of previous years. The acid test of the industrial depression, he concluded, has demonstrated, however, not only the ability but the determination of nearly all of the water users to meet the payments required by law.

SCHOOLS WILL GET LITTLE FEDERAL AID

Supt. A. Floyd has made every possible effort to escure a modification of the manner of distribution of the federal aid money to the schools, but apparently without success, the department sticking squarely to the method adopted some months ago. Instead of distributing the money to the schools needing it worst, or in proportion to the non-taxable lands in a district, the department will pay it out in the form of tuition for the Indian children attending the various schools, basing the payments on the daily attendance of such pupils. This will work a great hardship on some of the weaker districts and the aid thus received will amount to practically nothing. The following letter is self-explanatory:

Muskogee, Okla., Dec. 8, 1922.
Mr. A. Floyd, County Supt.,
Ada, Okla.
Dear Mr. Floyd:

In reply to your letter of December 1, I will say that the regulations under which we disburse federal funds are made through the Department of Interior and we at this office can not alter these regulations.

I admit that the strictly tuition basis will work a hardship on numerous counties holding quantities of untaxed Indian lands, but the fact remains that the tuition this year must be made on the basis of attendance and that the salary aid provision will have to be eliminated.

It is hoped that additional appropriations may be received in the future, thus increasing the available amount and making it possible for us to pay federal money on the two bases—tuition and aid. I am indeed sorry that it is impossible to help all the districts which should be helped, but the regulations are beyond our office to alter.

Yours very truly.
HERBERT C. CALHOUN,
Supervisor.

ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW IS SUCCESS

Whitehurst Praises Effort of Poultry Breeders at State Meet.

The ninth annual Oklahoma State Poultry Federation show closed its week's open house to the poultrymen and enthusiastic admirers of poultry of the state Sunday afternoon. It was the concensus of opinion of those in attendance and the judges ,two of whom came from the eastern part of the United States, that the ninth annual show was one of the very best ever held in Oklahoma and ranked well with others of the country.

Pres. A. F. Snodgrass, of Nowata, said he thought the recent show would do more to promote the poultry industry of Oklahoma than the other eight shows, because the breeders and raisers of fine poultry realize that competition is becoming so keen, and also demonstrating the fact that blooded stuff can be raised as well as the ordinary that they will bend every effort to promote development of the industry for the future.

The barred rock class was the largest entry exhibiting, there being around two hundred fifty birds and were said to be the finest display of this class exhibiting in the South. Friday was boys and girls day in the judging contest which was participated in by a class of fifty, representing fifteen counties.

Saturday evening marked the close of the social and business sessions with a banquet which was tendered to the members of the feueration by the city of Cushing. Covers were laid for several hundred and a wonderful menu was served.

Pres. J. A. Whitehurst of the state board of agriculture was the principal speaker at the banquet. Mr. Whitehurst was enthusiastic in his expressions of the show and the display of fine birds. He declared he was anxious to see the day that poultry production together with a big dairy industry made up the leading industries of the farmers of Oklahoma and that this state bid fair to become as famous in these lines as Wisconsin in her dairy interest. Oklahoma is particularly well adapted to the success of both poultry and dairying said Mr. Whitehurst and with effort could lead the union in both.

The officers of the Oklahoma State Poultry Federation are: A. F. Snodgrass, Nowata, president; W. S. Crouch, Claremore, secretary; J. I. Lewis, Broken Arrow, treasurer; W. C. Sippit, McAlester, election commissioner; Mrs. Charles M. Smith, Oklahoma City, assistant secretary; Charles M. Smith, Oklahoma City, superintendent.

MAXWELL

Maxwell school observed Thanksgiving with an appropriate program and pie supper. In spitt of the inclement weather a good crowd attended, bringing 52 pies for the supper. The sum of $37.15 was realized from the occasion. It will be used to help the school athletics.

Miss Thelma Fleming, who is attending school at Shawnee, spent Thanksgiving with her parents here.

The Norman sisters, who are students in the Teachers college at Ada, spent the holidays with home folks.

Federal agents surprise Tennessee moonshiners at their "mountain dew" still.

A photographer who wasn't "gun shy" recently accompanied three federal agents, J. Logan Malloy, W. B. Stone and G. H. Robinson, on an expedition into the fastnesses of the Tennessee mountains where they raided a "mountain dew" still. The agents didn't have to do any shooting, as they got the drop on the mountaineers, but the cameraman took a "pot shot" anyway.

A large number of young people assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw Friday evening and spent a happy evening playing games and singing. All left at an early hour as all were tired having been on a basket ball tour.

Vanoss basket ball teams lost three games on the Ada court Friday afternoon, a double header being played with Fitzhugh and boys with Center. Our team did excellent for the amount of practice and we hope to make a better showing next game.

All the rain and bad weather did not keep away the people who were interested in seeing the Methodist church straightened Thanksgiving day. The church house has been in a pitiable shape for some time. The last time the presiding elder was here he scolded the Methodists so much that they set Thanksgiving to straighten it. A large crowd of men were there to do their bit. The women came in later with well filled baskets and a delicious lunch was served. Though we know it is the duty of all the Methodists to help, we heartily thank people of the other churches who were present.

There was good prayer meeting Thanksgiving evening.

A very large crowd attended singing Sunday afternoon and there was some splendid singing. We welcome any other community to come over and join in with us any time.

Save your nickles, pennies and dimes for the play, "An Arizona Cowboy" to be given Friday night, Dec. 8, at the high school. Will only take two dimes and a nickel. Don't miss it.

PONTOTOC COUNTY SCHOOLS LOSE ON FRISCO TAX CUT

According to Supt. Floyd the cut in the tax valuations of the Frisco railroad will not seriously cripple the school districts of Pontotoc county through which the road passses, although the money is badly needed by all of them.

Of the various districts, Roff is the hardest hit, losing about $400. Fitzhugh and Oakman will each lost around $300, Latta about $290 and Francis about $265. The others will lose smaller amounts.

A contemporary says that "not many governors of states are nationally known." But some of them, including such men as Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Calvin Coolidge became so.—Boston Transcript.

PONTOTOC COUNTY WINS HIGH HONORS

Poultry Exhibitors Capture Many Prizes at State Show.

That Pontotoc county poultry breeders made a record at the state show held at Cushing is evidenced by the following wire received Saturday morning:

Cushing, Okla., Dec. 8, 1922.
Ada News, Ada, Okla.:

The poultry breeders of Ada certainly put her on the map by their winnings and are bringing home the bacon in cold cash. In the White Wyandotte class, J. F. Weldon won first young pen, first and third hen, fourth pullet, fifth cockerel. In the Single Comb Rhode Island Red class, Mrs. C. S. Aldrich won first hen, second pullet, third cock, fourth cockerel. In the Buff Orpington class, Lute Douge won first and fifth young pens, in a class of fifteen, third and fourth cockerel in a class of twenty-four, fourth cock in a class of seven, fourth hen in a class of twelve. Special for best pens in show in a class of seventy-five pens, J. F. Weldon won first, Mrs. C. S. Aldrich won second, Lute Douge won fifth, taking three out of five offered.

Now, Dear Ada, we will not ask you to meet us with the band or tip your hat as we pass by, but we ask you to get busy and help us to put on the best show december 28, 29 and 30 that ever was pulled off in Pontotoc county. And say, Ada, old girl, if you have a few nickels in your sock that are not working, dig them out and help in a financial way. We need it, think it over. Your poultry breeders have put you on the map in a class other than the Shriners or the trial of Robertson, but will do you as much benefit.

Yours truly,
LUTE DOUGE,
Secretary Pontotoc County Poultry Association.

(Herman Floyd won first honors on Buff Orpingtons in the junior class, according to information received by the News.)

The Unusual

Terriffic mob in Allen's this week. First a cop tried to hold 'em in. He rapped for help and a sergeant brought out a platoon.

Some mob! Two women fainted, boy broke a leg, man lost his hat, clothes torn. No such excitement seen in the city in the past ewenty years. Terrific, terrible, horrible.

Finally the police got the cause of it, separated him from a tangle and took him to a police station where he was fined $10 for disturbing the peace.

"And the next time you go on the streets," said the judge, "see that your lips are rouged, eye-brows penciled, hair glued and everything, understand?" It's all right for you to wear your pretty laced-hemstitched trousers but the law demands that you look like the rest of 'em"—And the fly flew.

Chief Fisher says that the government report that 85 per cent of Americans can drive cars is all wrong, but adds that about that number can sit behind a steering wheel, one arm free and trust to luck.

"Goober" says its hard to live within his income these days and adds that it has gotten where a fellow has to go out and borrow a dollar every time he wants a smoke.

"Preach" lows as how the Oriental maidens had the right idea in covering her face. He adds that the girls around home, in demanding that their face be exposed, don't know just howfar their face extends.

"The little boy with the pig eyes" has ordered a pair of "Jelly" breeches. How about a date "Puddo?"—Oh, Min!

"Why is Bailiff Guest wearing a black eye?"
"Oh, he got personal with the lady jurors and tried to instruct them that they shouldn't talk."

Those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.

A college co-ed, who has not received her last letter from home, gasped in alarm in the announcement that long skirts are back for a while saying is an undertone that she would have to stoop for a while. She remarked that it would be a convenience to grand-ma, she could wash off the henna and get back to her becoming grey.

Shakers of the light fantastic toe are in wrath. They maintain that "Hump" Smith is degenerating the craze with various contortions, which resemble barbaric maneuvers. They wish to place an embargo on his demonstrations and limit his ability to movement of nether extremities. They suggest this action for the benefit of strangers, who might mistake his activities as an interpretation of Greek myth dancing, viz: "dance of the suffering fish."

Just at the time when quail season is at its height, local nimrods are dubious over "Jelly" Coley's bold declaration that he is having howling success on his hunting expeditions. Name the game, Selah!

STALL PURCHASES LATE INVENTION

Local Photographer Brings Perfected Apparatus to Ada Patrons

The latest in photography is brought to the door of Ada patrons through the latest accessories recently purchased by the veteran photographer, N. B. Stall.

With the annexation of the Hollywood flood lights and Holleywood spot light to his already up-to-date studio, Stall can now boast of probably one of the best equipped studios in the state.

These special devises purchased by Mr. Stall places him in a position to serve patrons in the latest art, Mr. Stall states. Sittings can be arranged with a assured degree of success at night as well as day, with Mr. Stall's latest device.

The perfected flood light and spot light makes possible the bringing out of the best features of the subject without the possibility of broken shadows interferring with a completed portrait.

Flood lights and spot lights with aid of mirrowed reflections bring the highest degree of success in photography, the mirrowed reflections bringing out lines in the picture which would be an impossibility under daylight exposures.

Mr. Stall announces that through the aid of the spot light, sunshine effects can be obtained with success. This phase, he points out, is one of the latest successes in the camera art.

The flood light, with a maximum capacity of 20,000 candle power, makes possible kodak snapshots at any time. About 15,000 candle power effect is used ordinarily in sittings, he said.

Mr. Stall said that he was adverse to all opinion that day light exposures could be bettered artifically but that the latest inventions have convinced him that the Hollywood flood light is the most important asset to the art at the present time.

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

Out of the eastern grid season, just behind us, came a multitude of wonderful players. With the exception of four instances it is an extremely difficult matter to select from the candidates one man who can be ranked as without dispute the best at his post.

These four men are Kaw of Cornell, Owen and Buell of Harvard and Gray of Princeton.

Kaw is without question the greatest fullback in the east. Charley Buell is without a rival at the quarterback position. George Owen is the peer of all halfbacks and Gray is the perfect end, without an equal.

Buell is selected for the quarterback position ahead of Pfann, the great Cornell pivot man, because, to my mind, Buell showed every quality needed in a quarter against the greatest opposition the east could produce. Pfann's work was just as brilliant, but there is a question as to how great would have been his work against more formidable opposition. Cornell had little opposition all season, with the exception of the Pennsylvania game which Cornell won 9 to 0. Buell was called upon to show his greatness in defeat as well as in victory and delivered.

In all-American and all-western selections I tried to place each man in his own position, even holding to the same side of the line and the backfield. In choosing the all-star eleven of the east, however, Treat of Princeton and Hanson of Cornell stand out as the two best tackles in that section. It would be unfair to replace either with another on that account. Hanson could play either tackle brilliantly. So he is shifted from the left to the right side of the line.

Three Princeton men win places on the honor team. They stood out prominently in the most brilliant campaign Princeton had in a dozen years. They helped make Princeton the strongest team in the east.

Among the other men considered for posts of honor on one of the two teams and who might play on any all-star eleven, are:

Ends: Taylor and Parr of the Navy, Stout of Princeton, Storke of the Army.

Tackles: Mulligan of the Army, Baker of Princeton, Eastman of Harvard.

Guards: Hubbard of Harvard, Howard of Princeton, Schwab of Lafayette.

Centers: Alford of Princeton.

Quarterbacks: Neidlinger of Yale, Conroy of Navy, Robertson of Carnegie Tech.

Halfbacks: Cassidy of Cornell, Neale of Yale, Cleaves and Crum of Princeton.

Fullbacks: Brunner of Lafayette, Barchet of the Navy, Mailbry of Yale, Hewitt of Pittsburg.

Fore!-!-!

The typer of these lines is of the opine that the guy that has his wife leave any coffee on the stove last night so as he could take a nip to keep from havin' the head ache and get a early start to the course so as to draw the best caddies and enjoy the mornin' air, aint nothin' else but part eskimo. He ought to take along a box of Xmas candles and eat one half way between each green. Famous eskimos like Dr. Cook and Mr. Peary says they is fine diet for cold days. Golf is a fine sport when the weather aint so artic but a feller will get his form all froze if he tries to play on as cold a day as this. The ladies is got the ideal sport for the winter. It is bridge. You get fine exercise movin' from one table to another, if you move, and as a feller will get a bid occasionally, no matter how hard he tries to be low they is considerable mental exercise in it. The ladies gets as much fun out of it as their husbands does out of poker. Both is played with the same tools but the rules is different. In bridge you shuffle and cut as per Hoyle, but shufflin' is called "makin' ", then you deal out the whole deck after havin' relegated the cutter to the empty box and the main argument of the session is then on. The guy that deals gets the first say and very often shows what a pore dealer he is by saying "bye" which is bridge for pass. The argument goes on till somebody bluffs everybody else out. Any man knows what happens in poker when a thing like that turns up, but it aint that way in bridge. It has to be played out.

They is laws in the game about what card is to be played after a certain lead has been made that would stump a PHD, but they don't phaze the ladies. They aint never a error in their box score. But if friend husband leads a ace against a non-trump bid the first hand around he is liable to get a stare from his lady pardner that would make a ice berg about as cold as a depot stove. Another thing about the game that is different from poker. If your pardner has the bid you have just got to lay down the hole hand on the table face up in plain sight of the whole crowd where everybody can see it and then set there and twiddle your thumbs while she worrys thru with it the best she can, and that's usually pretty good. When that happens to you, you are called a dummy which is how you feel 'cause the privilege of free speech is denied while in such a position. They might be lots of times when you could give some sound advice about the takin' properties of a high card but it would be unhoyle to say a word. Occasionally it is necessary to finance some card, usually a queen. "Finance" in bridge means "slip it by" and the best way to stop the financin' of a queen is to put the king or the ace on it. They is a great deal more that can be said about the winter merits of bridge but it can bee seen from the above that it is a lot easier to play on a cold day than golf is.

Ada Sells Quarter of Quota of Xmas Seals in Campaign

One-fourth of the quota of Christmas Seals for Ada had been sold after the first canvass, according to reports today by Miles C. Grigsby, in charge of the selling campaign to raise funds for the State Tuberculosis association.

Mr. Grigsby said this morning that first tabulations showed that $232.89 worth of the stamps had been sold and that school children and Sunday school classes would continue the sale through next week. He was of the opinion that 30,000 stamps would be sold by early next week.

The quota this year was doubled over that of last and those in charge expressed doubt that the quota would be met. Efforts will be continued to raise as much money as possible through the drive.

Acquitted of Charge Murder Kentuckian Slain by Avenger

(By the Associated Press)

GRAYSTON, Ky., Dec. 9. —Harrison Blanton, 24 years old, shot and killed Paul Herron, on the court house steps late today a few minutes after Herron had been acquitted of the killing of the former's father, William Blanton. Sheriff's deputies were guarding the county jail as the consequence of reports that an effort would be made to lynch the younger Blanton.

The slaying of Herron was witnessed by a crowd of men and woman, most of whom had attended the trial. According to spectators, Blanton fired three shots, two piercing Herron's body and he died almost instantly. One of the bullets wounded a farmer standing nearby.

IOWA STATE SET FOR OPENING OF WRESTLING EPOCH

AMES, Iowa, Dec. 8.—With five of the seven positions filled with letter men from last years team, Iowa state college is looking forward to another intercollegiate wrestling championship this year. Only two weights will be left without letter men, the 158 pound class and the heavyweight.

Captain "Shorty" Bowen, who has yet to be thrown in a match, and who won the intercollegiate championship for his weight at the University of Wisconsin last winter, will take care of the 135 pound class.

Hale Dickerson, captain of last year's team, who was forced out of competition because of an injured knee, is expected to be in shape to wrestle in the 115 pound class.

"Squeak" Loucks, a letter man, who tied for intercollegiate honors in his class at the Wisconsin bout, will wrestle in the 125 pound class.

Fred Shepard of Ames, a letter man from last year, is expected to wrestle in the 145 pound class again this year.

To take the place of McKibben in the 158 pound class, Coach C. W. Mayser believes he has a comer in Kenneth Zobel, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who although a sophomore, has shown unusual ability.

Joe Greer and Anderson, both weighing close to 200 pounds, are expected to put up the strongest fight for the heavyweight class filled last year by L. A. "Polly' Wallace and later in the season by Zink.

HILL MAKES HIS INTENTION CLEAR

Public Statement Explains Part of School Activities Concerning Public.

In regard to a few scattered complaints among patrons of Ada high school, made during the past school year, Prof. W. A. Hill today issued an official statement in the hope that all matters in question would be cleared up. His statement deals chiefly with the student enterprize fund of the school and money raised and expended by the administration.

"Most of the people of Ada understand and appreciate the city schools. However, a very few still have some wrong impressions, either because they have been misinformed or because they have not taken the trouble to inquire of those in charge. The following facts are presented with the hope that they may clear up the minds of this few misconceptions they may have:

"No student of the high school is forced to attend ball games, etc., and grades are not lowered for those who do not go.

"No student is required to buy student activity tickets unless he is enrolled in some student enterprise and getting his money's worth.

"Students may support such activity as they endorse and refuse to support all others. All money is spent for the purpose intended by the student.

"The books of the high school are open to inspection by any citizen or student.

"When the high school offers tickets for sale to the public, such tickets are offered to those who want them. No one else is expected to buy, nor is anyone criticized for not buying.

"In no case is a 'donation' sought by the high school. If the people enjoy the entertainments presented by the high school, and feel they get their money's worth, well and good; otherwise, the school does not want their money.

"Those in charge are always willing to explain policies to those who asked for them. Very few ever ask.

"W. A. Hill, Principal."

OKLAHOMA AGGIES ARE DENIED IN MISSOURI VALLEY

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 9. —Oklahoma A. and M. college was denied admittance to the Missouri Valley conference at a meeting here today of the coaches, officials and faculty representatives of the conference members. That the presentations by Ed Gallagher, athletic director of the school were found to be satisfactory, was announced, but his application was refused on the grounds that the conference, which already consists of nine teams, did not wish to expand.

Konawa Guards Get Upper Hand in Tilt With Normal Squad

In a game marked by many fouls, Company F, national guard team of Konawa Friday evening, defeated the East Central Tigers in a hard game at the armory court on North Broadway.

Nearly every player on the court was eliminated on account of personal fouls and a large percentage of the scoring was a result of free throws from fouls. The final score was 22 to 19.

Coach Thompson pointed out, however, that as it was his opening game, the men had not yet got into their usual form and would not be able to show real basketball style for a few weeks. He has several scrimmages with nearby high schools planned for the remainder of the month.

The Konawa guards is one of the strongest independent caging squads in this section of the state.

TULSA RETAINED IN CONFERENCE

Playing of Thomas Causes Oil City Team to Drop Conference Games

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 9. —The move to oust Tulsa University from the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Athletic conference for the alleged playing of ineligible football men failed at the annual meeting of the Conference here today.

A motion of Jonnie Maulbetsch, representing Oklahoma A. and M. college to expel the Tulsa institution never got to a vote before adjournment.

The conference officials however, by a vote of 8 to 2, upheld the action of the eligibility committee last fall in declaring Rex Thomas, star quarterback of the Tulsa team, ineligible.

It was charged and sustained by evidence admitted by the officials of the Tulsa University that Thomas had participated in nine games as a member of the Sapulpa team of the Southwestern League.

The action of the conference officials in holding Thomas ineligible automatically caused the forfeit of all conference games in which Thomas had participated including those with Southwestern, Southeastern and Central Teachers colleges and the Baptist University.

E. B. Cottrell, athletic director of Oklahoma University, was elected president of the conference for the coming year before the session adjourned. Frank Wyatt, Northwestern Teachers College of Alva, was chosen vice-president and E. C. Gallahger of Oklahoma A. and M. College was re-elected secretary. Coach Thompson, East Central Teachers College, Ada, was elected to the eligibility committee succeeding Wyatt.

FOR CONSTIPATION

Black-Draught Recommended by an Arkansas Farmer Who Has Used It, When Needed, for 25 Years.

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well-known farmer on Route 1, this place, says: "I keep Black-Draught in my home all the time. It is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for the liver and for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago and have used it whenever needed since. I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught. Black-Draught corrected this condition, and now we use it for the liver and for indigestion—a tight and sluggish feeling after meals, for bad taste in the mouth and sour stomach.

"My wife uses it for headache and biliousness. It sets on our shelf and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, if taken right, will correct this condition."

News Extraordinary! Every Boy Scout in Ada should read it. Read it several times and then let it soak in. If it soaks in far enough and you get right down to hard work maybe it will do you a whole lot of good and bring you some honor besides.

This is the news extraordinary. Mr. M. Webb Offutt, of the McThwaite Oil and Gas company, called the Scout Executive to his office and said:

"Your plan of awarding prizes to each Boy Scout in each school in Ada who have the highest standing in scholarship, and of awarding a prize to each scout who passes the best written examination of the Life of Christ in Ada Sunday schools and of awarding prizes to each scout who passes the best physical examination before a group of Ada doctors appeals to me as being a very worth while proposition. It reaches every phase of a boys life. We, as a company are strong for any thing which will help the boy to develop physically, mentally and spiritually. You may state to all of the Ada boy scouts that we will pay for all the prizes which are needed to carry out this plan."

The scout executive went out of that office with a feeling of deep appreciation to Mr. Offutt and the McThwaite Oil and Gas Co., for what he had so generously done, for it requires no small sum to pay for all these prizes. Scouts of Ada! Fifteen big Rahs for Mr. Offutt and the McThwaite Oil and Gas company.

The following boy scouts have the highest standing in scholarship in the schools listed below during the last six weeks.

Hayes school, First place: Ed Gwin; second place, Jack Conn.

Willard school, First place Fred Abney, second place, Jack Moore.

Irving school, First place: Chester Sneed; second place William Barringer.

Glenwood school, First place: Joe Cathey; second place, Edwin Gatlin.

Washington School, First place, George Kitchell, second place Vernon Witcher.

Ada High School, First place, Earl Philpot, second place, Haskell Rogers.

Teachers College, First place, Brown Mackin, second place Bill Mackin.

Brown Mackin just escaped by a hair's breath of being beaten by his brother Bill, Go to it Bill!

At the Ada high school the contest was very close between three scouts. Earl Philpot, Haskell Rogers and Creston Threlkeld ran neck and neck, there being only a fraction of a per cent difference. Better move up a little Creston or Haskell will set your place sure enough and Earl Philpot hasn't any too much to spare either.

Listen Scouts, we are keeping right up with you everywhere in school, church and on the outside. We are ambitious to have Ada scouts right at the front in everything. You help us to do it. Remember, that if you do not attend your scout meetings regularly too, that we will have to drop you from the scout roll for if you don't go how can you be called a scout and if you do not live up to the scout oath and laws and do your good turn every day, how can we call you or rank you with a scout?

We are proud of the records of Ada scouts in the schools. We can count on our fingers the ones who fell below a high standard of good conduct.

First class scout Carl Browall of Troop No. Four and Five was the guest of the Ada Lions club Tuesday. President C. E. Cunning of the Club, who is a member of the Court of Honor in a very appropriate manner presented Carl with a silver medal for saving a boy's life in Colorado this summer. Carl responded with much appreciation.

The high school band concert given at Union Valley schoolhouse, the selections read by Miss Julia Nicholson, the solos rendered by Russell Bond, and the address by Mr. Hugh Norris in behalf of the scouts, were very much appreciated by the people at Union Valley and also by the Pontotoc county boy scout council. Entertainments of this character do a lot of good to all concerned.

Parents of all Boy scouts would do well to look over the list of books on sale at Ada book stores and purchase some books for the scuts to read.

Every scout should read the Boy Scout News every week and keep posted as to scout happenings. Read the Thursday evening announcements about Boy Scout meetings, also.

Scout Charles Case has been confined to his bed by rheumatism for a couple of weeks but is much better at present. Scouts when you know of any scout who is sick please let us know at scout headquarters.

With the ground floor and the gallery of the Stonewall school auditorium filled almost to full capacity Thursday evening, Carl Spangler and Vernon Rollow had much difficulty in getting their Radio outfit to tune in with any station which would give the audience a connected program. The trouble with the radio was that there were so many broadcasting stations at work and all at the same time that we could not tune in to any one of them with any satisfaction. However, the three hundred and fifty people at times got a good opportunity to see that it was possible and a fact that one could get musical concerts and a great variety of programs by radio. After the crowd left and so many of the stations had quit broadcasting, we got several fine programs. We were handicapped too, by getting into Stonewall late, owing to a car accident on the way.

The following day Mr. G. W. Garrett, scout commissioner for the Stonewall district and the scout executive succeeded in raising $49.41 to pay for prizes to be awarded to Stonewall scouts in scholarship, physical examination contest and examination on the Life of Christ.

Glenwood and Irving school scouts under Mr. Charles Widney, and Mayo McKeown had a joint meeting last night. Forty-two boys attended the meeting. Messrs. E. C. Peay, troop committeeman and Mr. W. L. Whittaker were present. Mr. Whittaker made a fine and very entertaining talk on Tadpoles and Whales, and other experiences in the far north. Every boy came with plenty of eats and Mrs. Bennet of the Glenwood school mother's club, and Mrs. Houston of the Irving mother's club furnished the scouts with hot chocolate.

Troops four and five hiked out to the lodge last night. We will report on the event later. Troop seven had Mr. Hogan Montgomery as their speaker last night. He told the scouts how to handle a gun with the most safety to himself and others. These scouts had plenty of eats and a few guests. Mr. Newcomb, scout master, is getting his scouts ready for basketball.

Harry Hamilton took troop No. nine out to Jack Conn's home last night. They had a fine meeting despite the fact that Jack's radio couldn't get the results that Jack wanted it to get. Jack called it all kinds of endearing names and said, "I'll treat you as nice as I treat Daisy, but it just wouldn't work."

Troop No. two had 18 scouts out last night and Captain Lowery Harrell told them of experiences in France and how to handle a gun when a scout goes hunting, so that he wouldn't meet with any accident.

Tom Fullerton and Harry Deering saw to it that every scout brought something to eat and all went away fed up and happy.

He admits however, that he was downright "scared" when he undertook the task of directing the traffic in Market Street, one of the busiest thoroughfares in San Francisco, for almost an hour to obtain a necessary scene for the production.

Mr. Lewis wore a regulation San Francisco police uniform. He did not use any make-up on his face. The Forum

A very interesting program was rendered at the Forum meeting last Friday evening and was enjoyed very much by all present. The first number was a debate, "Resolved that the ship subsidy bill, now pending before Congress, should be passed." The affirmative speakers were: Mrs. Wales and Horace Northcutt; negative: Arthur Johnson and Gordon Harrell. Good argument was advanced by both sides so it was very hard to judge which was the best. This was followed by questions and jokes by Orville Harrell, a talk by Ben Hatcher, and extemporaneous discussions on the subjects, "Possible purposes of Clemenceau's visit to America" and "New aerial inventions." The program was concluded by reading by Leta Thurman and a talk by our critic, Mr. Zimmerman. Four new members were enrolled.

The Forum is a live-wire organization which is increasing rapidly in membership. The programs are always entertaining and instructive. All Normal students are cordially invited to come either as visitors or as candidates for membership. The next meeting will be Friday evening at 7:30.

Operettas in Ward Schools

Each Ward School is putting on a Christmas operetta, entitled "The Trial of John and Jane." The charges are 10 and 20 cents.

Willard school's will be given the evening of December 12, at the Normal auditorium. Hays school Dec. 14, Normal auditorium, Irving school at North Ada tabernacle, Dec. 14; Washington school, Dec. 19, Normal auditorium; Glenwood school at Glenwood school building, afternoon of Dec. 22.

Argument.

King Cole opens his court in Storyland, and from the throne receives the homage of his subjects. Jack be Nimble announces that Blue beard has come to court with a grienvance for the king's attention. Bluebeard enters, leading two mortals, John and Jane, who do not believe in him and therefore should be punished under the laws of Story land for their skepticism. Other witnesses appear—Jack the Giant Killer, Sleeping Beauty, Ali Baba and Aladdin, the Goops, Peter Pan and still others who accuse John and Jane of not believing even in them.

King Cole sends for Mother Goose and Mother Hubbard to help him in his decision. The evidence against the mortal children becomes so great that a clerk, Humpty-Dumpty himself, has to make a record of the case.

Robin Hood, Alice in Wonderland, and Robinson Crusoe appear in defense of John and Jane. The law reads however ,that, unless children believe in some saint or fairy, they are doomed to a fearful punishment. King Cole reads the sentence:

"Never more for you the dawning
Of a Merry Christmas morning!
Christmas Eve you'll go to bed;
But when next you lift you head
From your pillow in the dawn
Christmas will have come and gone"

The children burst into tears at having Christmas day taken from them because they do believe in Santa Claus. The arrival of Santa himself and the belief of John and Jane in him cause King Cole to reverse his decision.

John and Jane are fully pardoned, and it is decided that Santa Claus, after all, the real King of Storyland.

PHYSICAL TRAINING AT EAST CENTRAL COLLEGE

Until recent years the prevailing idea of education was to devote all possible time to the study of textbooks, paying little attention to the physical being of the pupils. However, experience proved that to obtain the best results both mental and physical training are necessary; that the two go hand in hand. Modern educators are a unit on this point, hence provision is made for the development of mind and body simultaneously.

In this connection East Central Teachers College is doing excellent work. During the past week the matter of physical training was stressed throughout the United States and East Central performed its part well. It was the pleasure of a News representative to witness a program given by one of the classes under direction of Miss Anna Weaver Jones, director of this department. The primary aim of Miss Jones is to give the girls such exercises as will best promote health. Then comes poise and finally, since this is a training school for teachers, supervised play ground work. To even a casual observer the effects of this course are apparent. Not only are the girls pictures of health, but the ease of bearing and general graceful composure which soon become second nature, at once reflect the results of the vigorous training received in these exercises. The motto adopted by this department is "Health, Happiness and Efficiency,' and they are making it mean just what it says.

In this college physical training is a required subject just as fully as any other and when they leave to take up work in schools of their own the students are fully equipped to pass it on.

Rport of Irving School Parent-Teachers Association

The Irving school Parent-Teachers association was organized several years ago and has been an active institution most of the period of its existence.

In the years past, playgrounds and equipment for the school and a piano and books for the library have been accounted for under the activities of the organization. Money for these expenditures has been raised through the co-operation of the pupils, teachers and patrons of the schools.

In September of the present year, the association met and organized for the year's work. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. C. O. Barton, president.
Mrs. Morrow, secretary.
Mrs. W. E. Pitts, treasurer.

Mr. Kimborough, principal, immediately turned into the treasurer, $145 earned by the association during the fair by selling cold drinks and candy. In October teachers and pupils earned $70.97 by staging a minstrel show, which was later presented at Latta. Before Christmas an operetta will be given by 65 pupils of the Irving school.

Following is the report of the treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Pitt:

Received from fair entertainment fund	$145.00
Received from Minstrel show	70.97
Received from Latta school	7.90
Received from Song book campaign	15.75
Received from Sale of refreshments	14.00
Total funds on hand	$253.62

This money has been expended for see-saws, steel slides, giant slides, repairing basketball courts, basketballs, football and etc.

This school has earned its own equipment and costume money instead of asking parents for funds. Besides purchasing equipment, over 70 selected books have been purchased.

Patrons of the school also placed the Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals at the disposal of the school.

Some very excellent work done by the pupils appears on the walls of the school, entrants from all grades. It will later be placed on exhibit down town.

Several spelling and arithmetic matches have been held at the school and between Irving and other schools. More will follow later during the term.

Irving is very proud of the fact that her football team played eight games with only two teams scoring against them. This team has defeated the high school freshmen and the normal freshmen. We feel confident that some of them will be on the high school team next year.

Of the Irving school graduates of 1921, the following boys were on the high school team this year: Vester Willoughby, Jesse Carr, Ambers Nettles, Joe Baker and "Cotton" Williams.

The Irving school basket-ball team have played many hard games with only one defeat.

Teachers and pupils have entertained the association at every meeting this fall.

On Friday, December 24, the patrons will furnish a program and refreshments for teachers, patrons and visitors.

Mrs. C. O. Barton, pres.
Mrs. Morrow, sec'ty.

The Poets and Nature.
(Mrs. C. O. Barton)

Long ago, the first of May was observed by all classes of Englishmen as a holiday. The old custom is finely touched by Wordsworth in his Ode to May:

"Time was, Blest Power, when youth and maids
At peep of dawn, would rise
And wander forth, in forest glades,
Thy birth to solemnize."

"Though mute the son—to grace the rite
Untouched the hawthorne bough,
Thy Spirit triumphs o'er the slight;
Man changes, but not Thou."

Stone informs us how our ancestors were wont to go out into "the sweet meadows and green woods, there to rejoice their spirits with the beauty and savour of sweet flowers, and with the harmony of birds praising God in their kind."

But Stubbs, in his 'Anatomie of abuses,' speaks very different ly. He accounts for the delight others take in the season thus: "And no marvel for there is present a great lord among them, as superintendent over their pastimes and sports, namely, Satan, Prince of Hell."

So it seems that Puritanism, wars, and other unfavorable influences caused the "rites of May" and other means by which the people were brought into closer touch with Nature to be almost forgotten.

Fortunately, Shakespeare, and other poets have preserved for us, many of the traditions, fairy tales and folk lore of former times.

Fortunately, too, Americans, as the English, are reviving the old customs, and once more conduct their little ones to "Nature, the old nurse, who taking child upon her knee says 'here is a story book that I will enterpret for thee.'

Shakespeare always walked hand in hand with Nature; hence his writings are as fresh today—three hundred years after he laid down his pen, as are the green leaves and bright flowers, which each succeeding Spring, Nature spreads with such lavish hand, over this old brown earth.

Shakespeare had enough of book-learning—and not too much, which combined with his close observation, and most wonderful memory, enabled him to interpret for us and all future generations, every phase of nature, leading those of us who are not so wise, by his art to more enjoy the fine and beautiful things of this earth, for though, like the writers of the Bible, the great poet portrays both good and evil, a close student of his works will readily see that he was a lover of "the good, the true and the beautiful.'

Dan Cupid Victor in Ellis Islaud Wrangle

(By Central Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Dan Cupid and the majesty of the law clashed here and the majesty came out second best and somewhat dimmed.

The law as represented by the Ellis Island immigration officials decided that love had no part in determining just who was to be admitted through the island gates.

Old man Cupid, who for some unaccountable reason is usually depicted as a baby-faced and bewinged little cherub armed with a bow and arrow in connection with the weighty matters of love, thereupon rose up and decided otherwise.

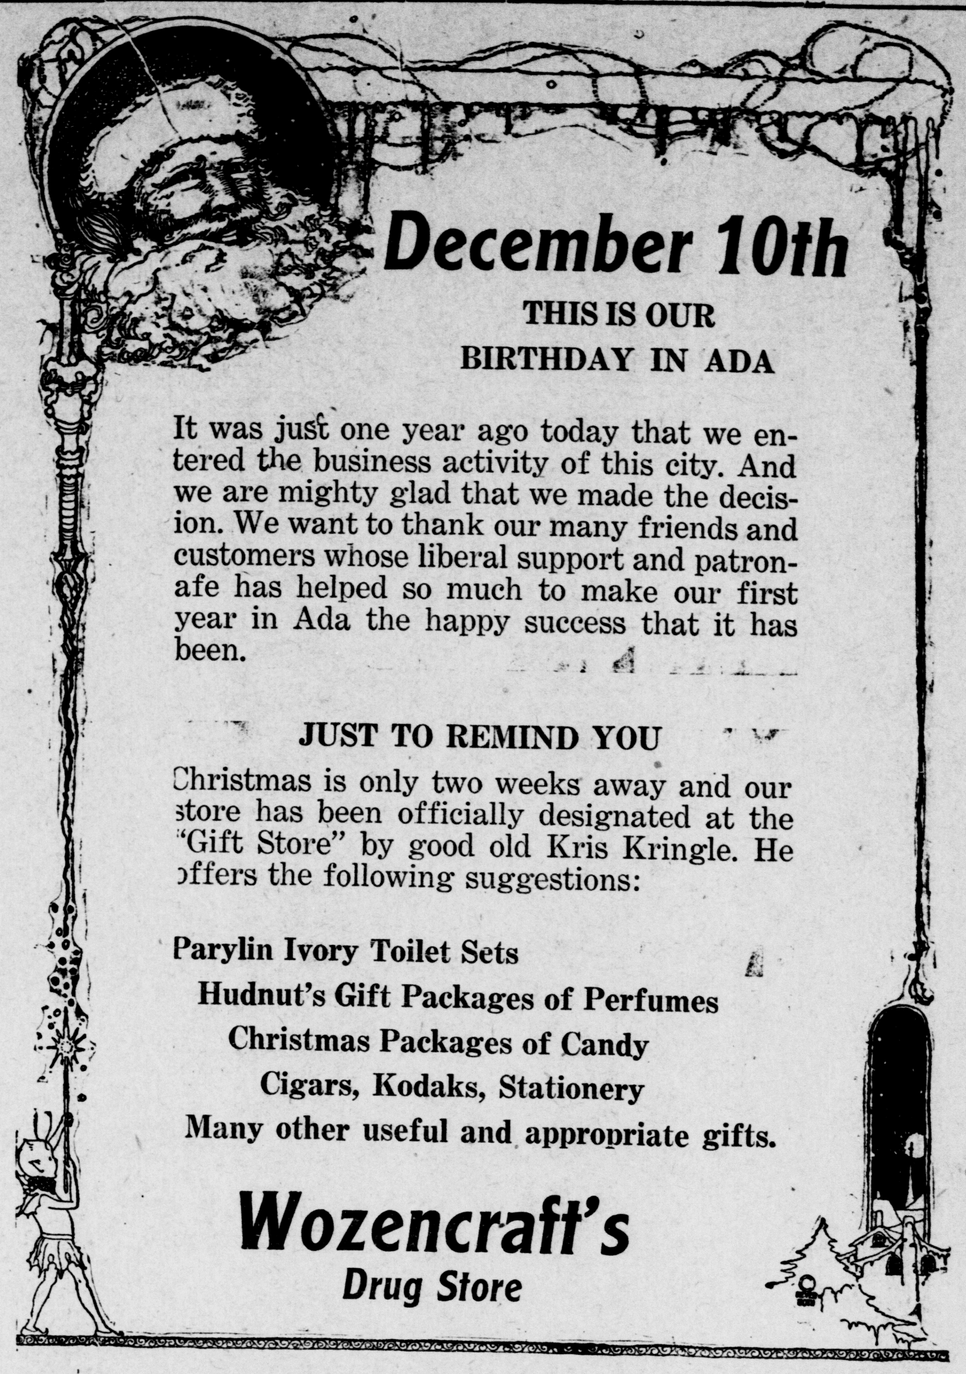

Through Mrs. Gladys Scarborough Hart he protested loudly, vehemently and more or less continuously for several days. But the said immigration officials merely asked for his credentials, and credentials being somewhat out of the redoubtable Dan's line, he was nonplussed, so to speak—but only for the time being.

Then he got in touch with Chief Petty Officer Hart of the U. S. S. Utah, but he wasn't seeking the assistance of the ship's big guns.

It just happened that Hart was the husband of the woman in question, Mrs. Hart, and when he heard that Dan was having considerable trouble getting his English bride into the United States he just naturally got all riled up.

He arrived at Ellis Island along with Dan. But was met with the self-same rebuff that had greeted Mister Cupid, "Where's your credentials?"

But having served several hitches in the navy Hart was more or less familiar with this credenitals problem. He showed his enlistment papers, proved his citizenship and the well-known but cold-hearted immigration officers just had to curl up and lie down while Hart and his bride escorted by Dan Cupid, started their triumphal procession toward Broadway.

"Duck Weather"

I care no for riches, I care not for wealth,
Of all the earth's blessings I only ask health.
A pipe and tobacco; a good dog and gun,
Just give me these, I ask no better fun.
Then dawn by the marsh and in season of fall,
Ears tuned to catch sounds of the wild mallard's call.
I creep through the cat tails and practice the art;
That since mighty nimrod thrills each hunter's heart.

Then home in the evening with pipe bowl aglow;
My dog on his rug and his muzzle held low,
His large faithful eyes watch every movement I make,
As out from my corner my good gun I take.
With care of a lover I make its parts shine,
There's no gun to me like this good gun of mine.
Then why should I struggle for riches or fame?
Give me a dog, a gun, a pipe and good name.

Hallowe'en Party at the Ford Home

Mmes. Fred Ford, Henry Russell, Charley Bobbitt, and Herbert Felix entertained a number of young married couples at the Ford home, 100 West Twentieth, Tuesday evening.

The guests, upon arrival, were greeted by Mrs. Ford, and were especially attracted by the beautiful Hallowe'en decorations throughout the home. After being comfortably seated were entertained with concerts over the radio; first from Kansas City and next from Atlanta, and San Antonio, Tex.

The first game of the evening was a memory test and Mrs. Roy Weddle proved to have the best memory. Mrs. Weddle and Henry Russell chose sides and adopted the names of "cats" and "dogs" respectively to go in search of the Hallowe'en spooks hiding about the home. The dogs were successful and as a penalty for the unsuccessful, the "cats" sang in concert.

After this song, the lights were turned low, and a sheet was spread upon the floor, Mrs. Herbert Felix announced that she once owned a "wonderful Tom Cat" and this cat had died, if the members of the party would gather around the sheet and put their hands under it she would pass the cat around, a piece at a time, and each one could get an idea of the precious treasure she had lost.

Then came the interesting game of story-telling, every guest was given an opportunity to tell a story of some animal and Mrs. Bailey Bobbitt who was near the last one to speak told of the greatest animal on earth and was unanimously voted the best story-teller.

As the radio was tuned in on a concert broadcaster from Davenport, Ia., refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. Elison, Bobbitt, McMillan, Duncan, Ellison, Felix, Russel, Weddle, Land, Norrell and Miller; Mssrs. Bobbitt, Felix, Weddle, Russell McMillan, Land, Miller, Duncan and Norrell.

WEEKLY LONDON NEWS LETTER

Armistice Day to be Observed; Family of Priests; Irish Losses.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Armistice Day, or Remembrance Day, November 11, will again be observed by a two minutes silence and by the wearing of Flanders poppies. The demand last year for poppies was so great that the eight million supplied were not nearly enough for the people anxious to wear them. However, 105,000 pounds was raised for benevolent purposes by the sale of the limited supply. This year the authorities in charge of the scheme have arranged for thirty million of these emblems.

The death of Father Bernard Vaughan, brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan has removed one of the most picturesque figures of the English clergy. Father Vaughan was a member of one of the oldest Catholic families in England. Under the influence of his mother, six of her eight sons became priests; they include a cardinal and two bishops. Five daughters became nuns.

For many years Father Vaughan was a commanding figure in the Catholic church. He entered the Jesuit order in 1866, his ability coming under the notice of Pope Leo XIII, and he was transferred to London in 1901. He first worked among the lower classes and soon became known throughout the kingdom as "an aristocratic servant of the people." Later he assumed charge of a fashionable church in Berkley Square in 1906 where he delivered his famous sermons on "The Sins of Society," which created the widest comment. These sermons denounced modern dress tendencies and birth control. Among incidents illustrating his wittiness is one when he was visiting a slums school. The teacher asked a pupil to explain the Sacrament marriage. The pupil answered: "Matrimony is a period of suffering and torment man has to go through in order to prepare for the higher life."

The teacher remarked: "That is purgatory, not matrimony." Father Vaughan interrupted saying, "You never can tell; the boy may be right after all."

That castles, family Mansions and other property of landed Gentry in 26 counties of South Ireland have been destroyed during the past three years, amounting in value to about 50,000,000 pounds, with 400,000 persons made homeless or refugees to the United States, England or other countries, is the statement, made in the reports of the Irish compensation payments bureau, which is endeavoring to obtain redress from the British parliament.

The two claims are divided into two parts—11,000,000 pounds for the pre-truce period, January 1919 to July, 1921, and approximately 40,000,000 pounds for the post truce period up to the present.

The claims bureau asserts that both Free Staters and Irregulars had the same program, and that the destructive campaign began on a large scale in the autumn of 1920 and was intensified in the spring of 1921, when homes, whether of the rich or poor, were rifled and burned, property and cattle carried off, and women and children warned to leave, when not murdered.

CHRISTMAS SEALS GOOD INVESTMENT FIGURES PROVE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 6.—"In 1900 expectancy of life was 49.2 years, in 1910 it was 51.5 years, in 1920 54.3 years.. The increase in the last decade, the period of intensive public health work, was two years and 252 days which was 183 days greater than the previous decade," Fred Struble, president of the Oklahoma Public Health Association pointed out here today.

"While it is impossible to state definitely that this increase in the years you and I may expect to live is the result of the health campaign, figures definitely indicate such to be the case," Struble said.

Insurance company figures also show that by educating policy holders for disease prevention, teaching health habits to children, and visiting nursing, life expectanscy may be increased four to five years.

Experiments at Framingham, Mass., conducted by the National Tuberculosis Association have proven that $2 a year invested by each member of a community saves 38 per cent of the deaths in that community.

Professor Irving Fisher estimates the cost of a death through tuberculosis at $8,000. Therefore $704,000 is the dividend in health work of the little penny Christmas Seal.

These seals will be put on sale in every city and cross roads in Oklahoma beginning December 1st. The money will be used in health work in the localities in which it is raised.

Women in New York have started a movement for roofed playgrounds to save children from street accidents.

Good Work Done By Latta Sewing Club

Latta Sewing Circle

The members of this club won six of the ten prizes offered in sewing club work last fall at the county fair and two of them, Betsy Kerr and Vera Simmons won first and third places in livestock judging. But excellent as was their fair work that is not the most remarkable or commendable thing about these girls. The most commendable thing about this club's work is the fact that it has faithfully held its regular meetings, studied instructions and performed every detail of its work. The final reports from the individual members of this club were received at the County Home Demonstration Agent's office Friday. It is reported that there is only only one other girl's club in the state that has performed its work and filed its complete reports up to the 100 per cent mark..

Supt. Morgan attributes the fine spirit and the efficiency of these club girls to the instruction and inspiration given by Mrs. Devall, their County Agent.

RED RED ROSE BANQUET AT HOME DINNING ROOM

More than one hundred teachers from various parts of the district assembled in the Home Dining room at 5:30 Friday evening to partake of the bounty of the Old Man. They listened to a few words of cheer from Prof. E. E. Dale of the University of Oklahoma and Dean Sutton of the University of Texas. But they spent little time listening to speeches. They had gone there to enjoy the hour socially, getting acquainted again with the boys from other parts of the district.

One of the features of the teachers convention here is the Red Red Rose banquet, when the dignified professors assemble around the banquet boards, forget for the time that they have dignity and again are just grown up boys. The jokes, the cats, the social hour in general are looked upon by the teachers as one of the most delightful events of the meetings.

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine," said Mr. Henry Garrett, of this city.

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly.

"I, myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine.

"We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver.

"I am glad to recommend anything that has been the help to my family that Black-Draught has.

"My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

The pastor will preach at the morning hour on the subject, "A Man rescuing his Brother." Mr. Longely Fentem will have charge of the choir and a special number will be given.
The B. Y. P. U.'s will all meet at 6:30. They had a combined attendance last Sunday evening of one hundred forty two. All young people are urged to attend.
The evening service will begin promptly at 7:30. The pastor will preach on the subject, "The Lamb of God." Miss Cordie Burris, a great favorite with our people, will sing.

Missionary Society First Methodist Church.
Mrs. McCoy reports an interesting trip through the Eastern States, during which time she spent three days in Washington in attendance upon the Conference of Allied Christian Societies engaged in community work. All of the organizations represented were of national and international scope as far as the work and program of each is concerned. The program was a rich one, closing with a private session —a brief one—with the president, at which time the conference chairman in a short introductory address stated quite clearly to the president that Christian America looks to her chief executive to continue to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, and that Christian people earnestly long for the nation to bear an honorable part in the family of nations. The president's reply was highly sympathetic and courteous.
On the evening of October 19, at Marvin Chapel, Washington, D. C., the Woman's Missionary society celebrated its twenty-first birthday. Miss Buenna Flynn, the president, has served continuously during the 21 years, missing only five meetings in entire time. A little Chinese girl has been educated by the auxiliary at the Susan B. Wilson school. This little girl is now teaching in McTyeire school. The membership in 1901 was seven, in 1922 forty-one. At the celebration, on the evening of October 19, the history of the auxiliary was read by the president and a demonstration showing the progress of the woman's work thru out the connection was given by the Young People and Junior Auxiliaries..
The Missionary Society will observe "Harvest Day" Monday, December 11, at 2:30 p. m. A splendid program has been arranged and we will "listen in from foreign fields and hear from our workers." Also there will be a full report on the amount taken in from the Shrine dinner.
The mission study class of the south side will meet Wednesday, December 13, with Mrs. Ed Granger and the East Side class will meet the same hour with Mrs. Meyer on East Twelfth street.—Supt. Publicity.

GOVERNMENT SAFEGUARDS FOR LAND PIONEERS ARE DEMANDED

A GREAT CROP FOR NEW LAND

Safeguarding the success of pioneering, under a constructive new policy, will be urged upon Congress and state legislatures as result of proofs sumbitted to the American Railway Development Association convention in Chicago of the successes in Wisconsin, California and Australia of progressive policies.

A stand for a progressive policy by the association, it was said, would revolutionize land colonization. The methods of the past were pointed to as a tragic example of waste and of lost industry of the pioneer.

B. F. Faast, of Eau Claire, Wis., emphatically demanded that service to insure prosperity of settlers on new land or old be provided by governmental action and co-operation of railroads. Having colonized 100,000 acres and created 1,000 new pioneer homes, he declared that the service to settlers had been means of their success, whereas old methods had been the means of untold hardships and failures, by which the nation had lost enormously in wasted industry and effort.

Satan's Empire Falling

"millions now living will never die"

—Judge Rutherford

SATAN'S wicked influence has long been felt in every part of the world. Together with his associate devils he incites people to hatred, strife, murder, and induces war and anarchy, wrecking homes and driving millions to insanity and suicide. Satan caused the fall of man, and established his EMPIRE. His wicked influence has overreached the denominational churches, causing many clergymen to forsake God and unite with profiteers and politicians to control mankind. But the end is here and his empire is FALLING; and Christ, the rightful kind, tho' invisible, is beginning to reign. Hence the distress of nations, of which Jesus spoke. These troubles will soon disappear, followed quickly by peace and prosperity, as Jesus assumes control.

PARKING DANGER SOUNDED FOR ADA

Fisher Warns Car Owners of Risks in Leaving Cars on Streets

An average of 23 cars are parked on nine principal business blocks of the city at 10:30 p. m. according to estimates made out of six nights the past week. This included Thursday evening when an unusually large number were parked due to the band concert.

It is shown by investigation that of the average of 23 automobiles, 15 could be stolen without a great deal of trouble. These included the cheaper makes of cars and old cars without the late devices by which they are kept locked.

Police records, as announced by a leading police magazine, show that most of the cars stolen are taken from the streets at about 10:30 p. m. A compilation of cars stolen for the fiscal year ending June 30, last, shows that more than half the cars stolen are cheap cars, which are left on the streets unlocked and in some instances with the keys still in them.

Local police say that cars left parked on the streets, especially in the business block, are easy to steal inasmuch as the streets are usually nearly deserted and suspision is not aroused, as most car owners are not known to the police department. A thief could easily be mistaken for the rightful owner of the car, they explain.

They advise car owners to leave cars either locked or in a place where it would be hard for thieves to take them without attracting attention.

Cars should not be parked on down town streets at night unless for business purpose, they said. People who form the habit of leaving their cars on the streets for lack of a better place work a hardship on the street cleaning department, it is pointed out. Car owners could co-operate with this department considerably if they removed cars from the streets as early as possible at night.

NEW YORK TO LOS ANGELES ON 45 GALLONS OF GAS

Erwin G. "Cannon Ball" Baker, famous racing driver and winner of many speed and endurance runs, has lowered another transcontinental record. This time, Baker has punctured the economy record by taking a 13½ cubic inch Neracar from New York to Los Angeles, 3,364.2 miles on 45 gallons of gas and 44.75 pints of oil at a fuel cost of $15.70.

Baker's running time of 174 hours and one minute (or 7 days, 6 hours and one minute) gives him an average of 19.3 miles per hour and 74.76 miles per gallon. The Neracar, made at Syracuse, N. Y., is the smallest vehicle to make the trip under its own power. It was Baker's sixtieth transcontinental trip.

The Handclasp

Can you tell by a handclasp just how pleased anyone is to meet you when they are introduced?

Many people say they can tell whether the person introduced is pleased, bored, ill at ease or self conscious by the way they shake hands.

Usually, it is pointed out, when a person is really pleased to meet another, they plainly show it by the manner in which they shake hands. When enthusiasm is shown over the introduction the hand clasp will be firm and snappy, accompanied by a "real smile."

When the person is bored their handclasp is loose and without expression. The face is not decorated with an enthusiastic smile and the person presented show a desire to get away or turn their attention to something else.

If a person is ill at ease, they can seldom conceal it, local authorities on such things say. The hand is presented hesitatingly, the eyes fail to convey frankness or confidence and the grip is ill placed.

People who are self-conscious, find introductions somewhat unpleasant, due to the embarrasment it conveys. Introductions properly made are a help to eliminate self-consciousness, it is believed.

It is true that business men and women and people in public life, who meet people every day and who shake hands hundreds of times daily do not come under these classifications as they take handshaking as a matter of course.

Marriage Not Rosy Prospect Records Show

Marriage is 43 percent failure in Pontotoc county.

Approximately 43 percent of the couples to seek an end to their restless period of life through marriage in the end ask for their freedam again through the divorce courts, records show.

In Pontotoc county, 286 marriage license were issued from dates between January 1, 1922 to December 7 of the same year with the marriage license bureau open to business 6 days of the week and from hours 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and license furnished hasty couples on short order.

In the same period of time 123 petitions for divorce have been filed in Pontotoc county, with the usual uncertainty and inconvenience involved and with the courts in session at rare intervals.

While few divorce petitions have been granted out of the list of marriage license issued since January 1 the continued process is carried on through the courts and each year finds its left-overs from preceeding years, who have become despondent of nuptial ties and are demanding severance of the same.

Careful observers, who have witnessed the change in matrimonial sentiment, declare that there is much difference in the two processes. One comes with the anticipation of the future in store and the other with the bitterness of life's reversals as the background for their petition.

Petitions seeking divorce state a varied list of causes for action, cruelty, desertion, non-support, and a long list of other complaints are listed.

Few qualifications are needed for the first step.

HARVEY OFFERS FORD FOR XMAS

Special Selling Feature Makes Purchase Small Expense Item.

W. E. Harvey, Ford agent, who is in business at the corner of Main street and Constant avenue, is advocating a "Ford for Christmas." He believes that a new Ford car will make a happy Christmas for any family.

Mr. Harvey points out that his system of selling cars makes it possible for many families to afford one. On touring cars a first payment of $195.04 is made and monthly payments of $28.62 until the payment is completed. Roadsters sell with a $185.08 payment and $26.66 per month; Coupes $245.08 down and $37.63 per month, Sedans $270.07 down and $41.80 per month and trucks $264.42 down and $33.04 per month.

Sales of Fords this fall have been quicker than for several months, he reports. Like other garages of the repair business has increased somewhat with the coming of winter and bad weather. Demand for official Ford parts is growing, he says.

He is a licensed operator and guarantees his work. Parts to build sets or the complete set are furnished, and he also installs the receiving sets. Such a set in the home for Christmas is one of the best gifts obtainable, he believes.
